England Gets First ECA Loan As Fund Opens

Recovery Credits Also Slated For 9 More Countries

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The delayed Marshall Plan Lending Program rolled forth today with a $310,000,000 loan to Britain and ECA disclosure that more than $500,000,000 recovery credits for nine other nations are slated within a fortnight.

An Economic Co-operation Administration official said that a $50,000,000 credit for Ireland is "imminent." Major loans of $170,000,000 for France and $80,000,000 for Holland, plus $15,000,000 for the Netherlands East Indies will be signed shortly, he said. The sums are approximate.

Britain's First Since 1946
The British loan, to be repaid over 35 years starting in 1956, is this country's first credit to England since a $3,750,000,000 British loan of 1946. The hard-pressed Britons exhausted it in little more than a year.

Today's announcement, made jointly by ECA and the Export-Import Bank of Washington, marked the much-delayed start of ECA's lending program. Congress specified that about $1,000,000,000 of the $3,655,000,000 Marshall Plan funds for the first year must be restricted to loans rather than outright gifts.

The loan agreement contains an escape clause if Britain finds herself too short of dollars to make repayment on schedule. If "adverse economic conditions" prevail, payment of interest or principal or both may be postponed upon agreement between this country and England.

The interest rate, two and one-half per cent, probably will govern the other loans granted, the ECA official reported. A minor credit to Iceland already granted, $2,300,000 at three per cent for fishery development, likely will be revised to conform.

Payment Starts In 1952
Payments on the principal will be made by Britain semi-annually starting in 1952. Interest payments will start in 1953.

The United Kingdom, the announcement said, will use the loan primarily for industrial machinery, equipment and raw materials.

Britain issued promissory note to the Export-Import Bank for $310,000,000, while ECA allotted the same amount to the bank. The bank, which administers ECA's lending affairs, will pay out the money as Britain calls for it.

The other loans pending, in approximate amounts, include Belgium-Luxembourg $50,000,000; Norway $25,000,000; Sweden $10,000,000 and Turkey $30,000,000.

Two of the Russian satellite countries, Poland and Hungary, were named today as suppliers of Marshall Plan shipments to be furnished under ECA's grants.

Hungary will furnish freight cars valued at $1,000,000 to bizone Germany and Poland will provide coal worth $825,000 to Austria.

Shotgun-Toter Pickets Truman

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26 (AP)—A man carrying a shotgun caused a mild flurry today when spotted among a group picketing President Truman's hotel.

The shotgun, which turned out to be empty, was confiscated by police. The demonstrator explained it was merely a prop in a tableau of "Wall Street leading the Democratic and Republican Parties into the next war."

Coed Missing From Smith College Found In Canada

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 26 (AP)—A Smith College official said tonight she received a telephone call from Mrs. Ida Shanhouse in Bay Ridge, Md., that her daughter, missing since yesterday, is in Montreal.

Mrs. Sydney A. Cook, college warden, said Mrs. Shanhouse received a telephone call from her daughter, Lenore I. Shanhouse.

Mrs. Cook quoted Mrs. Shanhouse as saying that the 19-year-old sophomore "appeared upset but apparently unharmed."

The girl has been provided funds by her mother to return home to Bay Ridge, Mrs. Cook said.

No explanation was offered by Mrs. Shanhouse of the girl's mysterious disappearance from the Smith College campus. Lenore was last seen in the college library Monday.

Mrs. Shanhouse's message was received shortly after college officials announced that they would have a parade tomorrow on the theory that the girl might have drowned.

A New England wide search for the brown-haired student has been underway and clues were also sought in Madison, Wis., where the hapless girl and her mother spent last summer.

Dewey, Truman Open Last Week Of Campaigning

GOP Candidate Says President "Spreading Fear"

(By The Associated Press)
Governor Dewey said last (Tuesday) night that the Truman Administration has hit "a new low in mudslinging." President Truman declared his Republican opponent is trying to run his campaign like "a high level tea party," avoiding mention of "the facts of life."

Dewey in Chicago
Dewey prepared his speech for delivery in Chicago. The President addressed his remarks to Cleveland voters. The Republican and Democratic nominees are on a week-long, day-apart tour of big eastern and midwestern cities that winds up one of the most intensive Presidential campaigns in American history.

Leading up to his "mudslinging" charge, Dewey declared the Democratic candidates have spread "fantastic fears among our people."

"They are openly sneering at the ancient American ideal of a free and united people," he said. "They have attempted to promote antagonism and prejudice. They have scattered reckless abuse along the entire right of way from coast to coast."

"That is the kind of campaign I refuse to wage," Dewey said, declaring that the United States "desperately needs new and better leadership."

Hits 80th Congress
Speaking in a more informal vein, Mr. Truman said his opponent has treated the Republican controlled 80th Congress "like a poor relation."

"He has shut it up in the back room so that its bad manners and terrible record won't frighten the voters he is entertaining in the parlor."

DEWEY IN "SNOWSTORM"-- The motorcade bearing Republican Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey through the Loop District of Chicago ran through crowds in LaSalle Street amid a paper and ticker tape "snowstorm" yesterday. Dewey is riding in the first car of the motorcade. He delivered one of the principal speeches of the closing week of his campaign following the parade. The Board of Trade building is seen in the upper left.

Europe's Big-5 To Meet With U. S., Canada

American Aides Indicate Plan To Be Drafted

PARIS, Oct. 26 (AP)—The five Foreign Ministers of the Brussels Alliance announced tonight they are asking the United States for a North Atlantic Defense Pact.

A communique at the end of a two-day session said the Foreign Ministers of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg agreed to instruct their ambassadors in Washington to take up this project with the American State and Defense Departments in the near future.

Will Draft Pact

High American officials in Paris said Saturday the United States and Canada will begin drafting such a pact soon after the United States Presidential election. It would be the United States' first such peacetime defense pact in history.

British objection developed to another project to establish a Western European Consultative Parliament.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin consented, however, to take up this question for further study. This will be the first time proposals for European federation have been entertained formally on a governmental level.

The conference agreed to set up a committee of representatives from the five nations to study the promotion of greater European unity. The committee is to report back to the ministers at their next session in January.

This committee, which will meet in Paris, is to be composed of five members: one from each of the five nations, three British, three Belgian, three Dutch and two Luxembourg delegates.

The ministers reviewed reports from their envoys in Washington on the preliminary conversations last summer for an Atlantic Defense Union and agreed such a pact was desirable, an official French spokesman said.

The five-nation communique reported as follows:

"The council also made a preliminary study of the question of North Atlantic security and the conversations on this subject which took place in Washington during the summer."

"This examination resulted in complete agreement in the council on the principle of a defensive pact for the North Atlantic and on the next steps to be taken in this direction."

The five ministers constitute the "consultative council" of the Western European union established last spring by the pact of Brussels.

Will Ratify Decision

The ministers ratified the recent decision of their respective defense ministers to set up a joint international general staff for combined land, sea and air forces under Field Marshal Lord Montgomery.

The town of Ales, near Rochelle, was the scene of an abortive insurrection. Mobs attempted to storm police headquarters and other government buildings but were dispersed by heavily-armed troops.

The bloodshed occurred when the troops, in full-battle kit, were forced to blast their way through barricades to reach the mines. Both at the roadblocks and at the pitheads, angry miners hurled grenades at the soldiers, and opened up with gunfire.

Army spokesmen said that lethal mines had been placed in the soldiers' path.

The nine persons wounded included an army officer, four policemen, and four pickets, one of them a woman.

Socialite Among Rodeo Troupe Swiss Put Out

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 26 (AP)—Swiss police today expelled into France an American rodeo troupe including one bronco-busting cowboy who identified herself as Mrs. Katherine Carnegie, estranged wife of socially-prominent Thomas M. Carnegie, Jr.

Mrs. Carnegie, who said her husband is a great grandnephew of Andrew Carnegie, was put across the border with 39 other members of the Larry Sunbrook Rodeo and Thrill Circus. The troupe was expelled for becoming involved Sunday in a free-for-all battle with Swiss police.

Mrs. Carnegie wore a scarlet cowboy shirt, striped gray trousers, ten-gallon hat and cowboy boots as the group was escorted to the border by a strong police guard. She said her home is at Darien, Conn., and New York.

Mrs. Carnegie said she joined the rodeo in New York because she was desperate for a job.

"I was looking for anything," she said. "I sat around New York all summer, trying to get a job and I finally left with this rodeo as bronco rider. It had never occurred to me before in my life. It was absolute desperation."

Russia Denies Rules Exist On Air Safety

Reject Protest On Violations In Lanes To Blockaded Berlin

BERLIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Russians denied tonight the existence of any four-power agreement on air safety rules for occupied Germany.

They did so, said ADN, the Soviet-licensed German News Agency, in rejecting British-American protests that Soviet planes violated air safety rules by harassing planes supplying blockaded Berlin.

American air officials received the Russian reply to the protests but declined comment until a translation is completed tomorrow.

The Russians rejected a long series of charges filed over a period of many weeks. Among the protests:

Russian yak fighter planes flew dangerously near American cargo planes in mock attacks, "bussing" them.

Russian troops held anti-aircraft practice and Russian pilots practiced aerial gunnery in the air corridor used by British and American planes flying food and fuel to Berlin.

The American protest had termed these repeated acts a menace to airlift planes and demanded "immediate and direct action" before serious incidents occur.

ADN's version of the Soviet reply said the Russians contended air safety rules cited by the Western Powers had never been confirmed by the United Nations Council and therefore were not valid.

To "improve air safety" the Russians asked the British and Americans to give advance notice of every flight over the Soviet zone of Berlin. Previous requests for such advance notice had been rejected by the British and Americans, who fly more than 600 planes into Berlin daily.

Doctor Contends Cancer Due To Virus In Cells

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Dr. John E. Gregory, San Marino, Cal., contended today that cancer is due to a virus which makes normal cells sensitive to certain stimuli so that the cells grow wildly.

Gregory, of the Pasadena Research Laboratories at San Marino, listed such stimuli at certain "chemicals, irritants and excess hormones."

At the 42nd annual meeting of the Southern Medical Association, Gregory exhibited photographs made with an electron microscope which he declared showed "virus" in various types of cancer tissue.

Gregory's exhibit won for him "first honorable mention" by an association committee which appraised all scientific exhibits on such standards as practicability, applicability to the practice of medicine and teaching value.

The Californian was not eligible for one of the three major exhibit awards which are restricted to doctors within the association's own territory—the southern states and the District of Columbia.

He told a reporter he had been able to isolate the "virus" from human cancer tissue, and grow it in eggs—and that rats injected with the material developed cancer even when no other carcinogenic (cancer-producing) chemical was used.

(Various investigators in the past have been able to produce cancer in animals following the injection of certain chemicals derived from coal tar.)

Police Doubtful Youthful Gunman Shot Md. Couple

FERNDALE, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—Anne Arundel County officials were interested today but not too hopeful that a young gunman held in Boston has any connection with Glen Burnie's double slaying case.

One of the strongest links was discounted when Mrs. J. E. Kline said her daughter did not own a locket with her initials engraved on it.

Massachusetts police found a locket engraved "MK" in the car abandoned by the man they are holding.

Eighteen-year-old Mary Kline and her date, John H. Mahan, 25-year-old Glen Burnie postal worker, disappeared Friday night September 17 after they started out on a short ride.

Thomas Quiz Is Set For Nov. 4

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury decided today to defer questioning Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) until after the election. It is investigating alleged irregularities in the handling of Thomas' office payroll.

Thomas, chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, which has been at odds with Attorney General Clark over the committee's inquiry into alleged Communist espionage, has called the Justice Department's action in putting the matter before the grand jury "a new low in politics."

Thomas announced that he desired the opportunity to appear personally before the grand jury to answer the charges.

He said, however, that in order "to keep the matter free of politics" he believed November 4—two days after the general election in which he is a candidate to retain his House seat—would be the most appropriate time for him to be heard.

Israel, Egypt Asked To Backup

PARIS, Oct. 26 (INS)—U. N. Mediator Ralph H. Bunche disclosed tonight that Israel and Egypt have been called upon to withdraw their forces to positions held prior to last week's truce-breaking Negev desert battle in Palestine.

Bunche told a meeting of the Security Council that as yet no answer has been received from Cairo or Tel Aviv.

U. N. circles regarded it as unlikely that the Jews would consent to such a move. During the renewed warfare in the Negev, Israeli forces shattered Egyptian military positions, re-opened communication lines to isolated Zionist settlements, and definitely gained the upper hand in the hotly contested area.

The 3,800-square-mile Negev was awarded to the Jews under the U. N.'s original partition plan, but would be given to the Arabs under the revised plan of the late U. N. Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte.

Bunche made his revelation at a special session of the Security Council which was summoned to hear Egyptian charges that Israel was continuing to violate the peace in the Negev.

Warren Austin, American president of the council, at one point angrily rebuked Arab spokesmen by stating:

"The Security Council will act in due time. Meanwhile, it cannot be lashed into action by charges of bias."

Seoul Troops Battle Rebels

SEOUL, Oct. 26 (INS)—Government forces tonight were reported battling rebels on three fronts in American occupied South Korea.

Korean Army Headquarters announced that government troops, supported by artillery, smashed into the rebel-held port of Yosu in southernmost Korea. Street-fighting was reported in progress.

One Killed, Nine Hurt In French Strike Rioting

PARIS, Oct. 26 (INS)—One striker was killed and nine persons wounded today in a fierce grenade and gunfire battle between troops and miners in Southern France.

More than 500 persons were under arrest tonight in gard department following the outbreaks, which occurred when tank-supported troops and police seized four struck coal mines near Rochelle.

The government operation was a follow-up to yesterday's bloodless seizure of the northern coalfields.

The town of Ales, near Rochelle, was the scene of an abortive insurrection. Mobs attempted to storm police headquarters and other government buildings but were dispersed by heavily-armed troops.

The bloodshed occurred when the troops, in full-battle kit, were forced to blast their way through barricades to reach the mines. Both at the roadblocks and at the pitheads, angry miners hurled grenades at the soldiers, and opened up with gunfire.

Army spokesmen said that lethal mines had been placed in the soldiers' path.

(Various investigators in the past have been able to produce cancer in animals following the injection of certain chemicals derived from coal tar.)

In monkeys, Gregory said, cancer was produced when the animals received both the "virus" material and estrogenic (female) hormones.

But he said "control" monkeys given estrogenic hormone alone developed only a non-malignant overgrowth of the breast, whereas those given both the "virus" and hormone developed actual cancer.

This indicates, he said, that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

N.Y. Bus Drivers Ignore Orders To Resume Working

Strike Ties Up 7 Lines In City

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—CIO transport workers went on strike against seven bus lines today—causing the biggest surface transportation tieup in the city's history—and service remained virtually at a standstill tonight despite a back-to-work order.

An angry group of strikers who defied the order to get back on the job was responsible for the situation. A partial resumption of service had been effected by subsequently called off because of what was termed the "ugly mood" of the dissidents.

Mayor William O'Dwyer, blamed Communists for the failure to heed the back-to-work movement, announced late in the day that city employees would be used if necessary to provide emergency service in some key places tomorrow.

The seven lines serve some 3,500,000 riders. The original tieup lasted four hours.

Of the 8,500 members of the CIO Transport Workers Union who were called out on strike, some 1,500 refused to heed their leaders' edict to go back to work, police estimated.

10 Held In Contempt Refused Releases

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—Federal Judge Pierson M. Hall today refused to release from custody 10 witnesses cited for contempt of court in a Federal Grand Jury inquiry of Communist activities.

Judge Hall, who jailed eight of the witnesses last night and gave the other two temporary liberty to find baby-sitters, said that if every witness before a grand jury could refuse to answer questions "the laws on our books would become mockeries."

Dewey, Truman

The President referred to that Congress as an "old sinner" that refused to repent and "backslid into the gutter of special privilege."

And he didn't qualify his forecast a bit when he said:

"We are going to win this election."

Mr. Truman said public opinion polls that show Dewey out in front are completely wrong. He declared the Republicans are "on the run."

What the GOP would like to do, he said, is lull the voters into sleeping instead of balloting next Tuesday. He said the Republicans know in their hearts that a big vote spells their defeat.

Dewey said the administration has "tried appeasement on one day and bluster the next." On foreign policy, he said it "has failed even more miserably at home."

Lt. Gocke To Head Recruiting Office

First Lt. George J. Gocke of the Army and Air Force Recruiting station has changed desks.

With the change, he also took the title of commanding officer of the local office, a post vacant when Capt. Laurence M. Bairstow was transferred to the Silver Spring Station, Detachment Six, Thursday.

Lt. Gocke has been acting officer-in-charge for about the last two months while Capt. Bairstow was on temporary duty setting up recruiting offices in Cambridge and Silver Spring. The captain came here when the local office reopened in October, 1945.

Lt. Gocke came here as adjutant in May, 1946. From Rolling Field, Washington, D. C. In the Air Force for six years, he served in the South Pacific for nine months in World War II. During his service there, he was injured in a crash landing on the island of Maroti, Netherlands East Indies. He was then in hospitals in the Philippines, Hawaii, Hamilton Field, Cal.; Camp Pickett, Va., and Coral Gables, Fla.

The Cumberland office became a main recruiting station in April,

The Lions obtained fullback Pat West from the Rams in what was described as a straight player deal.

1948, and has jurisdiction over Allegany and Garrett Counties.

In the case of the rats, he said, the indications are that an "overwhelming" dose of "virus" material alone can produce cancer.

He said the tiny particles which he identified as "virus" were photographed in all of 1,000 specimens of human cancer tissue which he declared covered all types of malignancy.

No such particles, he asserted, were found in normal tissue or in benign (non-cancerous) tumors.

Crowning 100 Years of Tri-State Service . . .

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

If you sit around Lindy's long enough, and you have enough toothpicks to prop up your eyelids, you're a cinch to eventually see everybody who's anybody in show business. And so I wasn't too surprised a few weeks ago when 28 thespians walked into this bagel bazaar and, without even looking at the menu, ordered strawberries and cream.

I had never seen these actors before and, not knowing that they were being chaperoned by Sam Leve, the stage designer, I eased over to where he was sitting and asked him about them. He told me the 28 were members of the Habimah Theatrical Company, the venerable Palestinian drama group which recently toured the States with a repertoire of such old Yiddish folk favorites as "The Dybbuk" and "The Golem."

As you probably know, the Habimah is one of the world's great repertory companies—right up there with the Old Vic and the Abbey Players—and the present troupe is largely composed of veterans of the fighting in the Holy Land. As Sam explained it, they were celebrating their country's successful revolt by acting out the tag-line of Willie Howard's famous soap-box sketch—"Come the revolution, you'll eat strawberries and like it!"

The stage designer asked me if I'd like to meet any of the actors and offered to translate. I motioned toward a good-looking young fellow whose left arm was off at the shoulder.

"Introduce yourself," said Sam. "He probably speaks better English than anyone in this restaurant."

When I asked the actor to tell me about his arm, he smiled. "I lost it fighting for the British against Hitler," he said. "But it's really not much of a loss. You see, up to that time I had trouble sleeping nights—never knew where to put my arms. Now I sleep like a baby—on my left side."

"How'd you happen to take up acting?" I asked.

"Well," he said, "while I was in the hospital I worked up a parody of 'Johnny One-Note,' and on the strength of it, got myself assigned to an entertainment unit. The words were pretty funny, and by the time we reached the Elbe, everyone was calling me 'Old Johnny One-Arm.'"

"When the war was over, I went to Jerusalem—I was born there, you know—and when I heard the Habimah was getting ready to do 'The Dybbuk' again, I applied for a part. In the second act there's a scene where the bride dances with the beggars and cripples of the town."

and I knew they couldn't refuse me. I was—what do you call it?—a 'natural.'"

"Matter of fact, there are lots of things I do better now because of the missing arm. Take soccer, for example. In soccer, you know it's against the rules for anyone except the goalie to touch the ball with his hands, and a player has to be careful not to foul. Well, I only have to be half as careful as the other players."

"The one arm must have kept you out of the scrap with the Arabs," I said.

"The Hagana used me as a spy because I know several Arab dialects and because the empty sleeve made it possible for me to put on a convincing performance as a beggar. When the fighting was going on in Jerusalem, I used to carry messages to and from our men who lived in the Arab-controlled quarter."

"Did you ever get caught?" I asked.

"I wouldn't be here if I had," said the performer. "The Arabs only suspected me once, and then the missing arm saved me. In the early days of the fighting, I was ordered to contact one of our leaders, but when I reached his house, he wasn't there. I found his wife and child in the cellar trying to hide from the Arabs who were making a house-to-house search."

As I was about to leave, I heard somebody banging on the front door, and then the sound of the door being battered down. A minute later a big Arab tribesman came down the cellar stairs with a flashlight, and when he started to open the door where the woman and child were concealed, I jumped out of a bin where I was hiding and tangled with him. While we were fighting, the woman and child slipped out of a back door and escaped but I wasn't so lucky.

"I had no sooner flattened the Arab than half a dozen of his buddies rushed in a grabbed me. I pointed to my scratched-up face and explained that I had been trying to protect their colleague from a Jewish mob, and then pointed in the opposite direction from that taken by the woman and the child."

"At first they didn't believe me, but then one of them examined the unconscious Arab and said, 'No beggar with one arm could do that much damage,' and they all set out in the direction I had indicated.

"Nice going," I said, "but how did you manage to knock out the Arab?"

Johnny One-Arm grinned. "In soccer," he said, "a fellow learns to use his head and feet quite a bit, and so when the tribesman came at me, I butted him in the stomach and then did the rest of the job with my feet."

"As the French say, la savate." "As you Americans say," said the actor, "I knew I could lick this guy with one arm tied behind my back."

Ann Smith Becomes Bride Of Adrian Charles Smith

Ceremony Performed In Oakland Church

Miss Ann Blakeslee Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher Perry Smith, Oakland, formerly of this city, became the bride of Adrian Charles Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Cory Smith, Mobile, Ala., October 23.

The single ring ceremony was solemnized at 2:30 in the Church of St. Peter the Apostle, Oakland, with Rev. Michael K. Carney officiating. Bouquets of white chrysanthemums against a background of palms decorated the church and the traditional wedding march was played by Mrs. Russell Brown.

Patricia Jean Smith and Constance Marie Smith, twin sisters of the bride, were junior bridesmaids and their sister's only attendants. Duncan C. Smith was his son's best man and Lyle R. Mercer, Pittsburgh, and P. Perry Smith, Jr., city, were the groom's men.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of cathedral satin with sweetheart neckline outlined in a floral design of seed pearls, fashioned with basque waist, full skirt and court train. Her three-quarter length veil of bridal illusion having a sheer lace ruffle dotted in seed pearls fell softly over a satin halo. Her bouquet of orchids and gardenias had a shower of ribbon and baby gardenias.

Her attendants were attired in American Beauty taffeta gowns with ruffles outlining the round neckline and full skirts. They had matching headbands trimmed with heavy gold braid. Their bouquets were of white pompons with trailing smilax.

The bride's mother wore a cedarwood moire gown with matching accessories and a corsage of tallman roses. The bridegroom's mother had a wine crepe costume with matching accessories and tallman roses.

The bride attended Bryn Mawr

School, Baltimore, and graduated from Vassar and was associated with her father and brother in the operation of the Cumberland Box Company and Garrett Properties interest at Deep Creek Lake. She is a member of the Cumberland Branch AAUW and Oakland Business and Professional Women's Club.

The bridegroom attended St. Louis University School of Commerce and graduated from Alabama School of Law. He was with the United States Department of Justice from 1940 until 1945 and now is attorney for the Personnel and Labor Relations department of Aluminum Company of America, Pittsburgh.

Approximately 200 guests attended the reception at "Smith Haven," the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. Yellow, white and bronze chrysanthemums were used in the decorations throughout the house, and a four tiered wedding cake surrounded with smilax, with candelabra of white tapers at either end, centered the bride's table. Mrs. John Ferguson Somerville, city, aunt of the bride; Mrs. William Grant and Mrs. Howard Riggs, Oakland, assisted in serving.

For traveling the bride chose a green gabardine tailored suit with green hat trimmed in gold, green pocketbook and pumps. After a wedding trip to New Orleans Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Pittsburgh.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Harry L. Williams, sister of the bride; Mrs. W. K. Skilling, aunt of the bride; Francis and John Rigley, Baltimore, besides many from Winchester, Pittsburgh, Cumberland, Baltimore and Annapolis.

A buffet supper was given by the parents of the bridegroom at Pickwick Inn after the rehearsal Friday night.

The Mothers Club Christmas dance will be held at the Cumberland Country Club December 17 and not at Ali Ghan Country Club as previously announced.

Alice Fraser Jones Has Royal Baby Article Published

Mrs. Alice Fraser Jones, wife of Lt. Com. Chas. M. Jones, stationed in England, and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Jones, 838 Gene Street, remains critically ill at St. Mary's Hospital, London, England, where she completed writing an article, "What's Ahead for Princess Elizabeth's Baby," which appears in the November issue of "The Woman."

Taken suddenly ill a few months ago, Mrs. Jones, who writes under her maiden name, had visited Buckingham Palace to get material for her article which deals with the pomp and ceremony attending the traditions of royal birth. She points out that since 1894 has a first grandchild of reigning sovereigns.

been born. In the article it also is noted that water from the river Jordan has been used for the christening of many of the descendants of Queen Victoria and it is expected to be used for Princess Elizabeth's baby. The baptismal robe will be trimmed with a piece of lace from Queen Victoria's wedding gown in keeping with tradition.

The daughter of Mrs. Alice Fraser, Minneapolis, who flew to her daughter's bedside, and the late Frank Fraser, Mrs. Jones is well known here, having won tennis championship matches here and at Mt. Lake Park. Having been writing for a couple of years, her first big article appeared in McCall's a year ago in August and was entitled "Lady, Your Face Is Red." She also has had articles published in parents' magazines and several stories in the American Legion magazine.

Legislature on an increase in the incentive fund, making available between $350,000 and $400,000 yearly, the county could erect one or two schools each year and meet the needs as they arise, he declared.

The exact cost of the three new buildings has not been determined, but Kopp said that when Fort Hill was built in 1936 the building cost about 24 cents a cubic foot. Present day construction costs total between $1 and $1.25 per cubic foot, he added.

The detailed report Kopp will submit to the County Board within two weeks will be given to the Allegany county delegation to the Legislature and will help in securing an increase in the incentive fund, according to John T. Fey, board attorney and member of the Legislature. Fey also told the board that he will write to the Department of Legislative Reference of the Legislature to have a bill prepared for the incentive fund increase.

Another factor which will tend to increase the enrollment in the higher grades is a law which goes into effect next year, Kopp said. This makes it mandatory for all boys and girls to attend school until they are 16 years of age. The present law allows students to drop out of school at 14 if they obtain work permits for non-hazardous occupations.

Members of the County Board and Kopp expressed their pleasure this morning at reaching a definite decision on the new school program.

Kopp told the board that: "We intend to build modern schools in continuation of our policy of making Allegany county's school system the best possible."

Photographer Claims "Ticketing" Partiality

William Addison Rinker, photographer at 188 North Centre Street, who posted $8 bond recently on four parking violation charges, accused the Police Department of partiality in "ticketing" parked cars on North Centre Street.

Street, and is proprietor of the Addison Studio at the Centre Street address, said in a statement to the press that he is being denied the right to use a yellow line at that address for business purposes.

Under recent action by the Traffic Division, many parking privilege cards giving holders permission to use authorized space without incurring money in the meter became null and void.

Rinker admitted holding the tickets for a month, "while attempting to see the proper authority on whether I could or could not have permission to load or unload on this yellow line." He added that he still has no answer.

In his statement, the photographer claimed "partiality" and offered proof that other cars on Centre Street were being passed up and his vehicle tagged.

He also said his records show that for the past six months he has loaded from 10 to 80 pounds of equipment on an average of six times daily and that in the future he presumes he is to be asked to "store this load anywhere from three to six blocks—depending on the nearest open space."

"And another point of discussion," he went on, "is that Officer Fred O. Daum is the only one who tags my car. The other officers on the beat never tag it while it is on the yellow line."

County Agents Attend Extension Conference

Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent, Miss Gloria Bohn, assistant, and Ralph F. McHenry, county agent, and Joseph M. Steger, assistant, are attending the annual conference of the University of Maryland Extension Service which opened yesterday in Annapolis.

The three-day has as its theme this year "A Look at Extension" and "A Review of Soil Conservation Work." Dr. T. B. Symons, dean of the College of Agriculture and Extension director, will coordinate the group and general sessions.

Addressing the farmers and their guests at the opening session yesterday was Norris E. Dodd, director general of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization. Dodd who is former under secretary of agriculture, spoke on "The International Situation and Its Impact at Home."

During the afternoon the women held a separate discussion of farm problems with Miss Venia M. Kellar, assistant director of the Extension Service, in charge. The discussion was led by county home agents.

The men, meanwhile, heard reports on soil conservation and the use of maps.

Today, L. A. Bevan, director

Extension in New Hampshire, will speak on "What the Extension Service Is, What It Does and How It Does It."

Governor Lane and Dr. H. C. Byrd, University president, will attend the Extension conference in New Hampshire Thursday noon. Speaker will be Frank Peck, managing director of the Farm Foundation in Chicago.

Tickets for the opera are available at the Music Shop, 35 Baltimore Street.

Tree Leaves To Be Collected

The city will make collections of tree leaves next week. It was announced yesterday by Street Commissioner Edgar H. Reynolds and Street Superintendent Martin M. Corrigan.

The schedule set up today follows: Monday: West Side east of Washington Street and to the Potomac river and The Dingle.

Tuesday: West of Washington Street and including Washington Street.

Thursday: B. and O. to the canal and "Little Egypt."

Friday: Baltimore Street to Piedmont Avenue.

Commissioner Reynolds asked that leaves be raked into the streets or put on curbs in containers to expedite collection.

Commissioner Reynolds said this is the first time the city has scheduled a collection of leaves.

Coleman Charged With Traffic Violation

Justice of the Peace C. A. Jewell, Ridgeley, W. Va., will hear the case tonight of Michael Coleman, 32, Springfield, W. Va., whose machine and a car driven by Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan collided early Sunday morning at Fort Ashby, W. Va.

State Police have charged Coleman with failing to keep to the right of the center of the highway. Authorities reported Coleman was driving south on Route 28 when his vehicle crashed into the Keegan car near the stop light in Fort Ashby.

Mrs. Keegan, who was accompanying her husband to their camp on the South Branch, was not injured. Lillian Miller, a passenger in the Coleman car, was also uninjured. Damage to both cars is estimated at $500.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Do some of us actually "live to eat"?

Ugly Eczema No Joke

The itching torment of eczema is enough to make anyone wretched and anxious for relief. Sufferers from itching eczema, pimples, angry red blotches or other irritating blemishes, get Peterson's Ointment, 48¢ all drugists. One application must delight you or money refunded. Also for itching feet, cracks, between toes.

Answer: Yes. The less successful anyone has been in getting subtle forms of pleasure, the more apt he'll be to make food his main interest in life. But there also is a type of person who "lives to eat" in a figurative sense. At best, he may live to absorb knowledge without caring about sharing it with others, while at worst he will try to "possess" his family and friends by monopolizing their time and attention. The pattern of "taking without giving" represents the half-ing of emotional development at an infantile stage.

Could "love" make a mother kill her children?

Answer: Perhaps, but there certainly are other, if unconscious, motives in most cases. A mother who kills a child she "can't take care of" is more likely to be making it the victim of her rage against a world in which her pleas for help have gone unanswered, or at the child's own reproaches for her inability to satisfy its demands. Even the so-called "mercy killing" of a child who is deformed or idiotic probably involves an element of anger at the disappointment, if not the false sense of shame its birth has involved.

Does too much light make you less efficient?
Answer: Yes, writes William G. Dorley in Illuminating Engineering.

Glaring lights will either force you to exert more effort and thus tire sooner, or keep you from doing as much work as you otherwise would. For one thing, they lessen the contrast between what you have to look at and its background (between black print and white paper, for example) and again, they may light up surrounding objects which have nothing to do with your job so brightly as to distract your attention and thus make it harder to concentrate on your work.

Voting Machines! Storage Space For New Devices Is Available

Editor's Note—In this fifth article on the merits of voting machines, the News explains the facts behind the second major argument being advanced by opponents of the devices. In an effort to fully inform our readers, the question of voting machines will appear on the ballot November 2, with two measures to be voted on.

A second argument being used by opponents of voting machines in Allegany County is the storage problem.

The argument sounds convincing to the average person who has no way of knowing the full situation. The News, in an effort to lay all the facts before its readers, probed this argument and conducted a survey.

Opponents say, "the county shouldn't buy the machines because it will have to build a building to store them when not in use."

The News has learned that in most of the 3,500 communities using machines the devices are stored in or near the polling places where they are used, and no central building is required or desired.

Central Storage Not Practical
Central storage brings about the expense of transportation of the devices each election year, and since the machines are a little heavier than ballot boxes and voting booths, moving costs would be higher than the present transportation charges on election equipment.

In fact, voting machines, properly stored and managed, bring about an added savings because it is no longer necessary to move cumbersome voting booths, ballot boxes and other paraphernalia such as light cords and sockets, light bulbs, pencils, etc.

Thirteen of the county's polling places are in public school buildings; fifteen are in fire halls; nine are in community buildings, and other public structures; and 12 more are in stores, barbershops, etc., where storage could probably be arranged. This accounts for 49 of the county's 75 polling places.

Officials say that only 57 precincts will be required if voting machines are obtained. If 49 are in places where storage is now available, this will leave only eight places for which storage space must be provided. Assuming that two machines will be needed in each of these, this means storage space for only 16 of the 118 machines.

That's quite a difference in the argument that 118 machines must be stored and moved.

Fire Halls and Public Buildings
Further than that, the News survey revealed that there are fire halls and other public buildings throughout the county not now used as polling places. These are available for voting and most of them are as equally well located as the private homes now used for this purpose.

In fact voting is now carried on in some fire halls of volunteer fire companies.

Almost every community in the county has a centrally located fire hall. There are a total of 22 volunteer fire companies in Allegany County. Plus the three fire halls in the city of Cumberland, this makes a total of 27 fire company headquarters which could be utilized as polling places where machines can be stored.

In addition, 13 polling places are in 11 schools. These also can be used, and Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools has indicated to the News that he will be willing to make every effort to help work out the storage problem in school buildings, so far as space is available.

Little Difficulty Anticipated
When the polling places are revamped to eliminate 18 and set up 57, proponents of voting machines believe the election officials will find little difficulty in locating polling places where machines can be stored permanently.

It might be well to mention that Volunteer Fire Companies in Allegany County receive annual appropriations from the County Commissioners amounting to a total this year of $16,375.

This appropriation to the companies by the County Commissioners is required by law, and would give the County Board reason enough to expect the fire companies to co-operate with the county by providing storage space for the machines in their fire halls. Many of them have already indicated they will provide the necessary space if requested.

Building Of Three Schools Approved By Commissioners

$2,000,000 Bond Issue Authorized

The School Board was informed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to go ahead with three new schools to be built as soon as possible. They told School Superintendent Charles L. Kopp they would authorize the issuance of $2,000,000 in bonds to begin the program.

Coupled with the $800,000, which has been in escrow in local banks since before the beginning of World War II, the money will be used to erect new schools at Eilerslie, Mt. Savage and Lonaconing.

Action on the proposed new buildings was taken following an outline of the immediate needs of the county for new schools, and of a situation expected to develop within the next five years.

Kopp informed the board that deals to purchase building sites at Eilerslie and Mt. Savage "can be closed tomorrow," while the site at Lonaconing can probably be closed within a short time. The Lonaconing site includes the baseball park and five or six houses, but Kopp explained that it is the only suitable site in that town.

The $2,000,000 will come "pretty close to covering the costs of the new schools," Kopp said. Preliminary plans for the three schools have been drawn and can be prepared in time for consideration of the commissioners prior to the next session of the Legislature in January, he added.

In connection with the five-year building program Kopp said, "The state has the money and in view of the desperate needs for new schools the state should make the necessary increase in the incentive fund to about four times the present $97,000. This is a matter which the Legislature would act favorably upon."

With between $350,000 and $400,000 per year of incentive funds from the state the county could carry on its projected five-year program and take care of anticipated increases in enrollment," Kopp told the board.

Kopp said that there is at present some crowding in certain schools of the county, but that with the problem of the three new schools solved the remainder of the program can be arranged to take care of the annual increase in enrollment without too much trouble.

"We are lucky that our present needs are not as critical as in some other counties in Maryland," Kopp said. "Once we get the three new buildings erected and receive the needed increase in the incentive fund to Allegany county we will be on the way to realizing our objective," he added.

In his outline of the school needs Kopp pointed out that enrollment took a jump this year as a result of an increase in the birth rate in the early 1940's and not from any influx of adult population with children.

"Of course, the city of Cumberland has embarked upon a drive to attract new industries here, but this situation cannot be predicted as far as increased population is concerned," he said.

"Starting with next year the increase will be most noticeable in the elementary grades, and by the end of the next five years will have caused an increase of 17 per cent in elementary grade enrollment and 31 per cent in grades above the sixth," he pointed out.

By 1953 there will be an increase of approximately 2,000 in the higher grades and 1,450 in the elementary grades over that of this year, he said. Kopp's estimates on population growth and expected increase in school enrollment are based upon figures furnished by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of Maryland, he added.

After giving his outline of the situation and the School Board's proposed program, Kopp said, "You give the authorization and we'll get started tomorrow on the program."

Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said: "As far as I am concerned you have that permission," and asked for a motion to authorize the School Board to go ahead with its program. Commissioner William H. Lemmert made the motion and Commissioner James Holmes seconded it. It carried unanimously.

Kopp also said an addition to the Finestone School is planned, and that other areas which are growing rapidly and need relief are LaVale, Bowman's Addition and the Cresaptown-Rawlings sections.

The erection of new schools at Eilerslie, Mt. Savage and Lonaconing will alleviate the present situation in other outlying areas, he pointed out.

Students now transported from Mt. Savage to Beall High in Frostburg would be cared for in their own town and this would result in more room at Beall, he added.

Kopp said that tentatively the plans are for students in the higher grades of the Eilerslie-Corriagville section to be transported to Mt. Savage. This would alleviate crowding at Allegany High School.

He also mentioned the increase in the number of children transported to Johnson Heights School and Penn Avenue from the Oldtown Road section. A solution to this matter will be worked out, he said.

Kopp told the board that within two weeks time he would have ready

'Don Champaign' Arrested Again By FBI Agents

Walker Was Nabbed At Fairgo In 1947

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (INS) — A dapper, middle-aged Chicagoan who allegedly took more than $50,000 from two of his four wives, was arrested today by FBI agents on charges of violating the National Stolen Property Act.

The agents identified the man as John D. Walker, 47, Walker arranged before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, said he had no job because "I have money." Commissioner Walker continued the hearing until Nov. 2 to await removal papers from New York.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert C. Eardley said Walker entered into a bigamous marriage in February 1947, with Mrs. Mary Ash, 47, wealthy Houston, Tex., widow. Mrs. Ash charges that during that month he took $25,000 from her and took an additional $23,500 from her in June, 1947.

Eardley said at the time Walker married Mrs. Ash he already was married to Mrs. Sally Grehan Walker, Lexington, Ky., who has since divorced him.

Mrs. Walker has charged he took $10,000 from her and that he is wanted in Louisville, Ky., for forfeiting a $10,000 bond resulting from her accusation.

The suspect told Eardley he served three years of a one to five year sentence in 1935 for a $250,000 conspiracy. He said he also paid a $5,000 fine.

Walker, known in police circles as "Don Champaign," was arrested at Fairgo August 29, 1947, by FBI agents and Lt. Edwin R. Lida when he attempted to claim a purse won by his horse, Coral Water.

He at that time was arrested on a warrant charging him with violating the National Stolen Property Act, and authorities said he fraudulently obtained $18,000 from Mrs. Grehan by working the confidence game.

Walker was held in the county jail here for several weeks and then was removed to Lexington, Ky., to await trial.

Elkins Man Is Held In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, October 26 (AP) — Police today closed the run of the epic "Thirty Days and Nights in a Bar Room."

It ended in another booking, however—the booking of Patrick J. Fleming, 23, recently from Elkins, W. Va., on a charge of petty theft.

Patrolman John Nyland said that for the past month Fleming had been living undetected in an attic of the Bond Bar on Lower Market Street.

And proprietor Tom Sullivan declared that only now were events of the past month shaping into perspective.

Patrolman Nyland said Sullivan told him the juke box had been jimmied open six times. Hardboiled eggs and sandwiches disappeared. Bottles of choice liquor vanished. The football pool funds were rifled. Loose change from cigar sales couldn't be found.

Today a customer visited the jukebox's washroom. It appeared incredible, but good bourbon whiskey was leaking from the ceiling. He called Sullivan who called the police.

They hollered "Whoever's up there come down." A trapdoor moved. Nyland said Fleming dropped down and said he was sorry he had knocked over a bottle upstairs.

The officer said Fleming made a point of climbing to the attic a few moments before the bar closed. Then he enjoyed the hospitality of the place, slept until mid-day, dropped down for a shave and a stroll, and returned at night.

Funkhouser Hits Neely Supporters

While introducing Senator William Chapman Revercomb (R-W. Va.) Monday at a rally in Keyser High School auditorium, Raymond J. Funkhouser made one of the most colorful speeches of the evening.

The Charles Town industrialist and publisher, one of West Virginia's staunchest Republicans, stated that the only people supporting Democrat Matthew M. Neely for Congress were Henry Wallace and Drew Pearson. He warned railroad workers against voting for anyone backed by these two men.

Also speaking was Melvin Snyder, Kingwood, candidate for re-election to Congress, who listed the beneficial bills passed by the 80th Congress in answer to a speech made by Harry S. Truman October 16 in Keyser. He suggested the President is running against Thomas E. Dewey, not the Congress, and should conduct his campaign on that level.

Walter S. Hallanan, Charleston, Republican National Committeeman, welcomed the prospect of a Republican administration which would "keep the government out of the red and the Reds out of the government."

Preceding the introduction of Funkhouser by D. B. Kesner, member of the Mineral County Executive Committee, who presided at the rally, the American Legion Band of Boyce Houser Post No. 41, American Legion, played a few selections.

Also present was Sheriff James A. Dixon, Mineral County Republican chairman, and 11 Republican candidates for Mineral County offices.

aircraft and get it to a mass production stage.

Golladay said he expects his plane, if he can work out all the details, will have relatively few parts, probably under 30, in comparison with the thousands of parts which make up a present day sheet metal constructed craft.

Golladay said last night preliminary tests indicate the new reinforced plastic material is moisture-proof, rotproof, lightweight and tough. He said it possesses very good shock absorption qualities.

Golladay plans to use a jet engine in his new ship, and has designed a small jet. However, the type engine adopted, he explained, depends upon the possibility of release by the military of certain small jet engines.

The young designer and aviation engineer said last night he is much encouraged with his finding thus far, and indicated he will continue his experiments with plastics until the proper formula is evolved. When he gets the right "mix" and gets it to react as he desires, then he will proceed with the construction of large plane parts for a series of tests and analysis.

The only round-the-world passenger line in operation is an American concern.

Just Between Us

If You Can't Take Girl's Fit Of Temper, Tell Her Good-Bye

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Most of the time, my girl and I get along very well. We've never had a really serious argument, but she has a temper, and gets furious about very unimportant things. Whenever this happens, she stays mad for about a day, and then apologizes. I never can tell what she's going to object to and her outbursts can happen any time, and do quite frequently. I always try to talk her out of it, but she either won't listen or tells me that I deliberately try to annoy her. After she says she's sorry, everything is fine again. But it's getting on my nerves. Could you give me any advice?"

(A) You can't change her moods, no matter how hard you try. She flies off the handle at the slightest excuse, and there's no way of telling when you'll be the light of her life—or somebody who deliberately tries to bother her. It's just part of her personality, and yet you're free to make graceful exit any time you figure it's more than you can take with a smile. Then, you'd be wiser to find someone whose temperament is a trifle more stable.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I met a boy at a party given by one of my friends about two weeks ago, and he walked me home that night. He called and asked for a date the next two weekends and on our last date, asked me to go steady. Well, I've been out with him only three times, and although I'm beginning to like him a lot, I don't know what to tell him. What do you think I should say?"

(A) At this date, you don't know for sure whether or not you want to say no to all the other fellows who ask you out, and concentrate on one you have just met. You haven't known him too long, and you might decide tomorrow that he isn't for you. Wait a few weeks and get to know him better. Having the same interests and liking the same things make a wonderful basis for a steady relationship, but it takes time to get acquainted with each other's personality. Tell him you want to date him, but as for accepting his class ring, you think it's a little too soon.

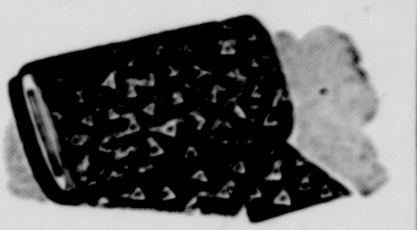

If you have a problem at school or at home, write Miss Mottram for her help.

CUMBERLAND, MD.

"I've just had a look at our new Navy. I was amazed to see how much it's changed in just three years. The new emphasis is on fast carriers, super-speed subs, jet planes, buzz bombs, electronics and atom warfare. In fact, the new Navy has instituted the greatest program of basic research both for war and peace ever undertaken by any nation at anytime. Here's a glimpse of what I've seen..."

ROBERT MONTGOMERY, Commander, USNR
Famous Motion Picture Star

"Our land of the free must ever be strong on the sea and strong in the air. The United States Navy is vital for that purpose. America's leadership for peace, America's effectiveness in world affairs, America's security at home—all demand a powerful, modern Navy as an inseparable part of a total fighting force."

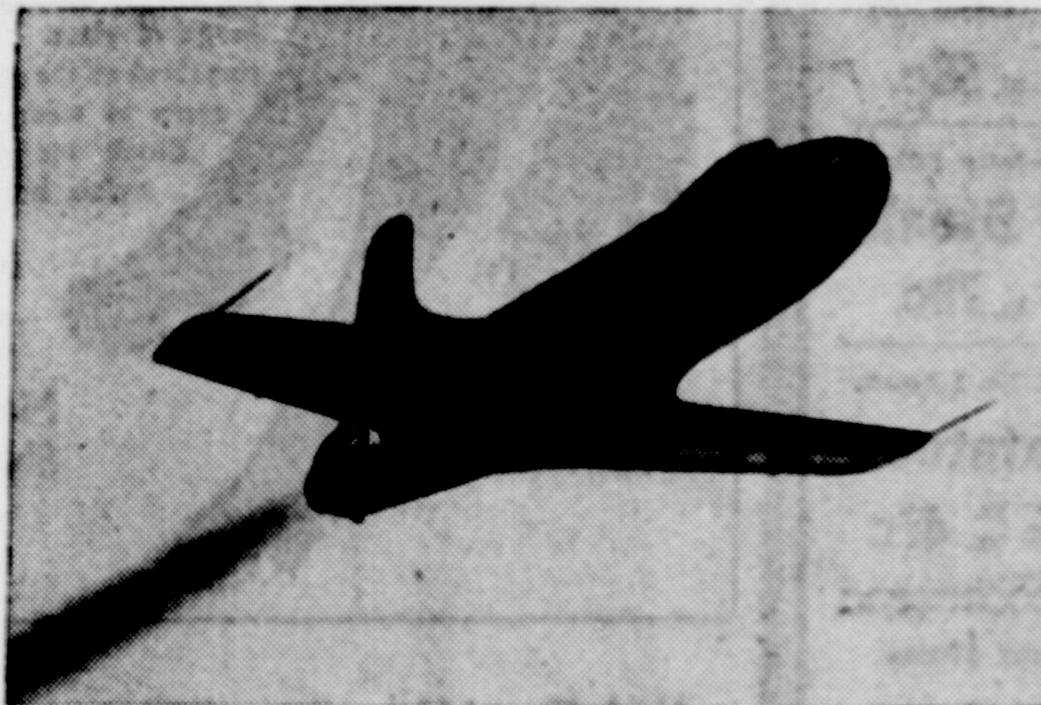

HAROLD E. STASSEN
Captain, USNR
President, University of Pennsylvania

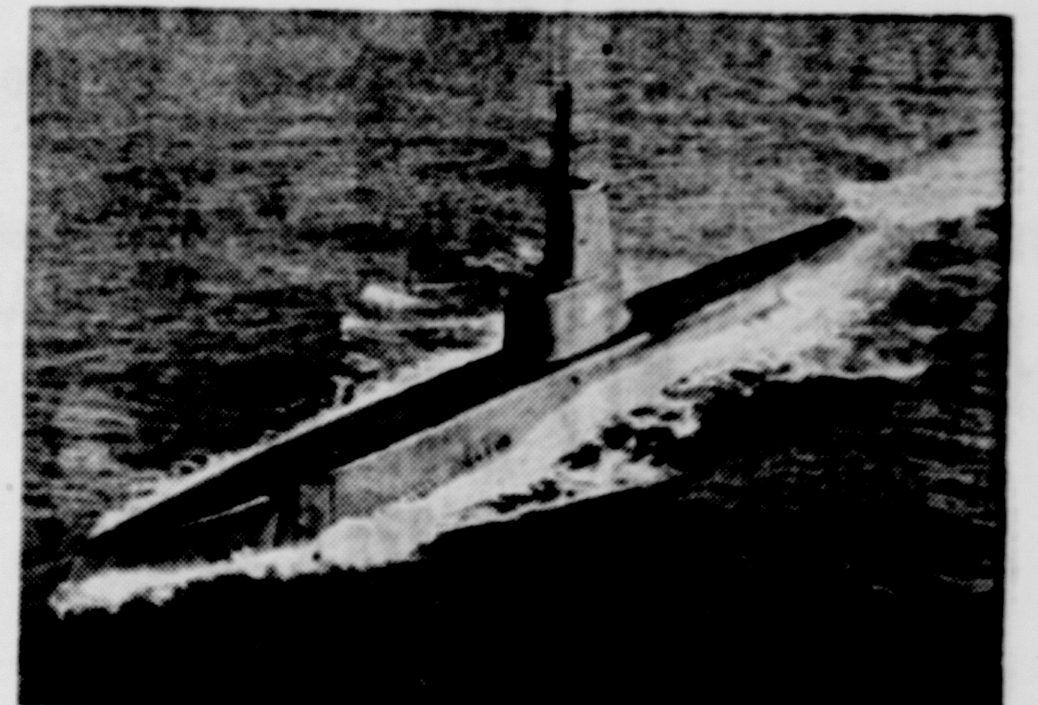

"Congratulations to the Medical Department of the Navy on its superb program of medical research. The results of these studies, that brought new medical knowledge to the world, not only contributed to the welfare of its fighting men on the sea, beneath the sea, and in the air, but to all mankind as well. On this day, I, as well as the nation, salute the Navy."

DR. EDWARD L. BORTZ, Capt., USNR
Immediate Past President
American Medical Association

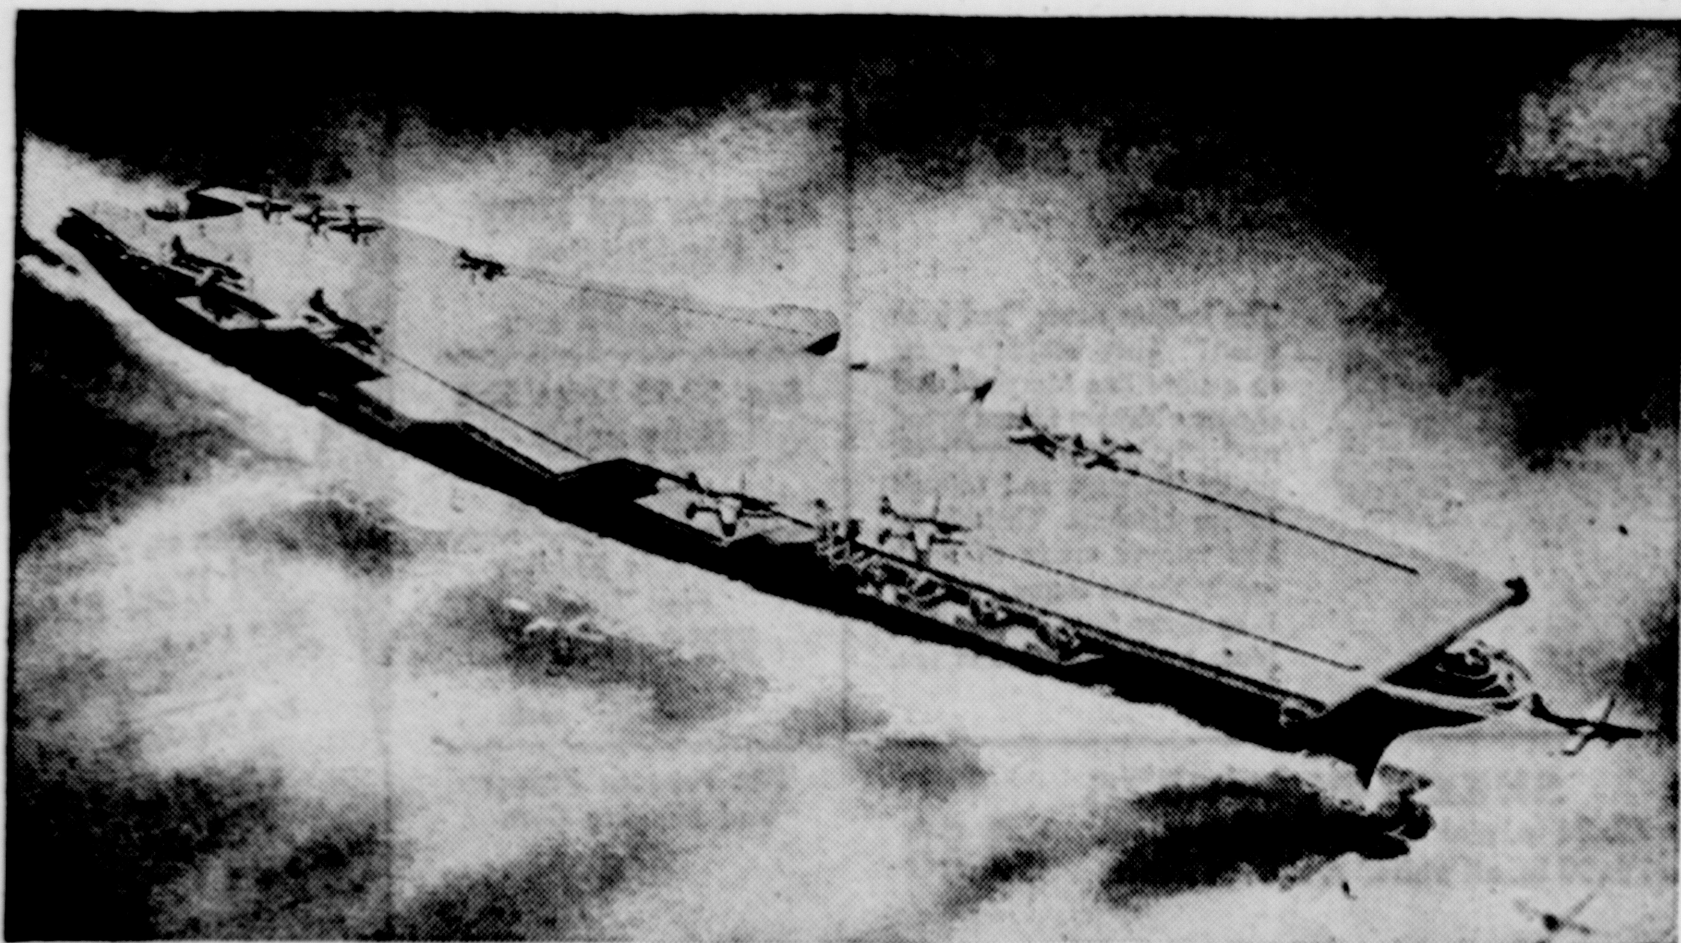

It's a NEW Navy!

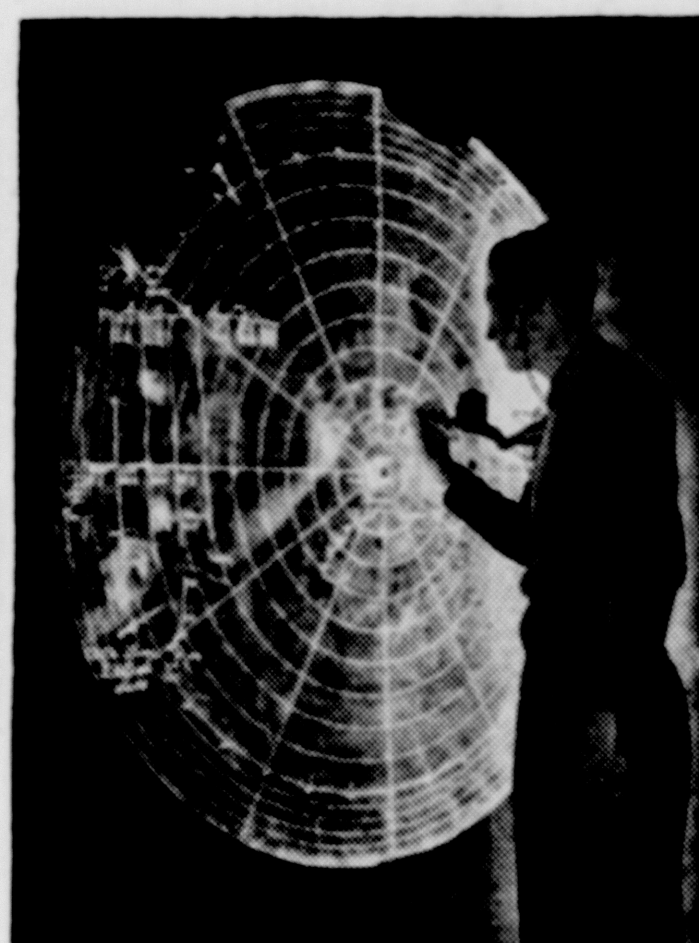

NAVY SETS PACE IN AVIATION—four records in a single year: 1) world's long distance non-stop flight record, 2) world's speed record, 3) national rate-of-climb record from a standing start to 10,000 feet, 4) maximum endurance record without refueling.

The Navy's new submarine travels underwater faster than submarines did on top during World War II. Equipped with twin snorkel tubes—breathing tubes—these new subs can cruise submerged for days without rising to recharge batteries.

Here's a sketch of Navy's new Super-carrier—a 65,000-ton flat-top 1,030 feet long with a crew of 4,000 officers and men. This great ship is designed to carry a new type jet bomber with greatly increased cruising range. Top speed of this new carrier is expected to be in the neighborhood of 40 miles per hour. This new super flat-top is 100 feet longer than today's largest carrier—by far the largest ship ever commissioned.

Spectacular electronic advances—no university anywhere can surpass the training the Navy offers in electronics. Navy's completely new electronic equipment has already made obsolete most devices in use at the war's end.

The Loon, a guided missile, is launched at the pilotless aircraft unit, Naval Air Missile Test Center in California. To avoid duplication of effort and save money, much research is co-ordinated with the development plans of the Army and the Air Force. For victory is achieved only by combined efforts of armed forces, industry and science.

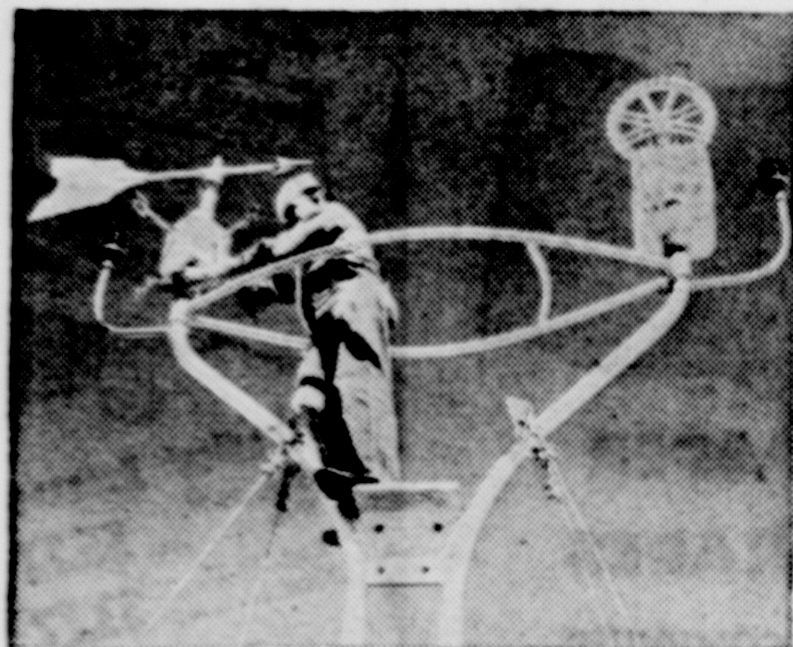

Know your NEW Navy—Spend Navy Day—October 27th—with us!

NEW

Coming—Still another Navy Contribution for war or peace—new airborne radar, an epoch-making advancement to safe air navigation!

The United States Navy

World's Largest - World's Finest

The Navy maintains complete weather stations in many parts of the world. Weather maps are radioed daily to U. S. Weather Bureaus. Navy research directly benefits Americans in their every day living in hundreds of ways. Some others—Medical research on rheumatic fever, streptococcal diseases and airborne infections.

The new Navy has stimulated and co-ordinated the greatest program of basic research ever undertaken. Over 1,200 projects in 21 fields of science at 200 universities, government and industrial laboratories are being sponsored.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Marriage Is Here To Stay

There is a growing practice, which I view with unmitigated despair, of bringing out magazines affiliated with and more or less the house organ of radio programs. The most conspicuous example is "Tom Brannan's Magazine," founded by the late master of ceremonies of "Breakfast in Hollywood." Soon to be on the stands is another magazine called "Happy Marriage," the illegitimate issue of "Bride and Groom," one of those daytime programs where marriage is sponsored by a dozen manufacturers. It's edited by John Nelson, master of ceremonies on the program, who kisses every sponsored bride.

I've just had an advance peek at "Happy Marriage." Leading off the magazine is an editorial by Mr. Nelson entitled "Marriage Is Here To Stay" in which he delivers what is known in the editorial writing dodge as a ringing affirmation. Mr. Nelson rang this particular affirmation like a gong, not mincing any words on this controversial issue.

"Happy Marriage" will try to serve as a positive influence combatting the present-day forces disintegrating the American home," he said. Flipping over to the fiction department, I came on a story called "We Married on Next to Nothing" headed by an illustration of a man about to club his wife into sensibility. The caption read: "I think we should separate before we get to hate each other."

"I pressed my hands nervously against my mouth," said the wife in this story, just after her husband had dashed out of the house to make passes at another woman. "The dirty, peeling walls of the living room swam before my eyes. I still had an hour's washing to do and running subterraneously through my brain was the thought of the unpaid grocery bill. I hadn't been to a movie in months. Tomorrow it would be the same—the worrisome, thankless routine drudgery."

That was enough of that happy marriage for me. I skipped to another story about a bored wife who took a day off from marriage and pretty soon had the cops after her. Another tale dealt with a mother who had such a psychopathic dread of dirt she wouldn't let little Marsha age seven play with other children for fear of getting her pretty dresses dirty. Little Marsha was mercifully released from this tyranny of cleanliness by infantile paralysis which overtook her midway in the story and killed her in a matter of minutes.

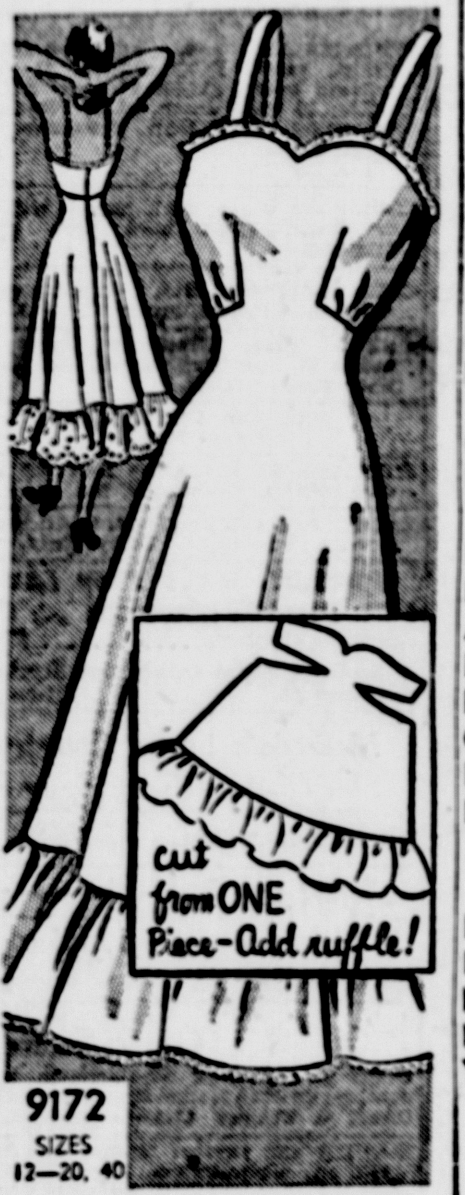

Well best of luck with the magazine, Mr. Nelson. But what makes you think marriage is here to stay? The cold war between the giveaways and the comedians turned into a shooting war out in Ravenna, Ohio, the other day. A seventy-six-year-old farmer named MacDonald admitted to police he had shot and killed one of his farmhands, a youngster of sixty-eight after a dispute over whether the pair should listen to a giveaway program or Jack Benny.

The self-confessed killer—just to get this thing straight in every one's mind—was the Benny man; the slain man, while he paid dearly won the original argument in that the pair listened to the giveaway, not to Benny. Things have come to a pass indeed when Fred Allen has to insure his listeners against losing prizes by listening to him; a man in Ohio has to shoot his way to the radio to get at Jack Benny.

Down in Washington the Federal Communications Commission just held a hearing to determine whether giveaways were lotteries. Lotteries, my foot! They're menaces to the public safety. (Copyright, 1948, N. Y. Herald Tribune Inc.)
